Chapter 12 HUMAN RELATIONS*

Section 12-56 Complaints.

Columbia Inhabitant

On April 3, 2013, I was subjected to unjust and unfair determination handed down by the Columbia Citizen Police Review Board and the Chief of police. The actions and behaviors by those acting and performing in his or her official government capacity, resulted in causing Marlon L. Jordan to shake and tremble by dynamically causing direct harm to Marlon's central nervous system that affected him to the degree that his body and mind became uncontrollably awry.

Therefore, Mr. Jordan is demanding $300,000 U. S. dollars for being intentionally deprived of his constitutional rights to be secured, protected, and prevented from having such embarrassing and humiliating events and experiences in the city's public chambers. This is an injustice, because I was not treated equally as other inhabitants of the City of Columbia who have been accommodated in the city's public chambers, pertaining to any determinations relating to governmental affairs, operations, and functions that directly affects an inhabitant's health, safety, life, limbs, bodily integrity, and future livelihood.

Mr. Jordan is requesting his right under the city ordinance to bring this matter to the city council for affirmative relief, equality, and justice, so that discriminatory patterns and practices that result in dehumanization that reduces an inhabitant of Columbia to second class citizenship can be arrested and prevented.

I thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

Marlon L. Jordan
